Limassol offers everything a traveler desires in a Mediterranean destination. The second-largest city on Cyprus is surrounded by a wealth of historic sites ranging from the Greco-Roman ruins at Paphos and Curium to Crusader castles. The Troodos Mountains feature quaint villages, dramatic scenery and cool, dense pine forests. The island's capital of Nicosia is an hour's drive from the port. For the casual visitor, Limassol offers its own medieval castle, a superb public garden, excellent beaches and that exhilarating Mediterranean light.
